Evidence of Completion

Indian River Charter High School

Each week, administration generates a report of students who are at risk (failing one or more courses and/or absent for more than four days). In the month of April, administration, guidance, and the ESE department logged over 300 phone calls to families of students who were at risk, with 27 phone calls being to families of African American students. These efforts helped reduce the number of students who were failing one or more courses from 106 to 60. The principal monitors effectiveness of these efforts by evaluating FOCUS reports and soliciting feedback from families.
